سوال نمبر ۲ - ہند میں حکمت دین کوئی کہاں سے کیلئے
نہ کہیں لذت کردار، نہ افکار عمیق

(گ) حلقہ شوق میں وہ جبروت اندیشہ کہاں
آہ بھگت و تقلید و زوال تحقیق!

خرد بدلتے نہیں قرآن کو بدل دیتے ہیں
ہوئے کس درجہ فقیہانِ حرم بے توفیق!

ان غلاموں کا یہ مسلک ہے کہ ناقص ہے کتاب
کہ سکھاتی نہیں مومن کو اسلامی کے طریق

(ب) نااہلی کو حاصل ہے کبھی قوت و جبروت
نہ شاید کوئی منطقی ہو نہاں اک کے عمل میں
تقدیر نہیں تالچ منطقی نظر آتی
تاریخ اُم جس کو نہیں ہم سے چھپاتی
ہر لحظہ ہے قوموں کے عمل پر نظر اُس کی
ہر اہل صفت شیخ دوپیکر نظر اُس کی

سوال نمبر ۳: مندرجہ ذیل انگریزی عبارت کا معیاری اور با محاورہ اردو میں ترجمہ کیجئے:

Senator Richard Luger, chairman of the foreign relations committee of the US Senate, has just returned from a visit to Iraq and said it was "rubbish" to suggest that "we won't stay in Iraq a day longer than we need to". He said, "We're going to be there for a long time", and the Bush administration at some point really has "to level with the American people", that is, tell them the truth about its intentions. An article in the independent US weekly, The Nation, says the Bush-appointed governor of Iraq, Paul Bremer, has in less than a month "readied large swathes of state activity for corporate takeover, primed the Iraqi market for foreign importers to make a killing by eliminating much of the local competition and made sure there won't be any unpleasant Iraqi government interference – in fact, he's made sure there will be no Iraqi government at all while key decisions are made. Bremer is Iraq's one man-man IMF".

The whole Iraqi venture is a tale of deceit and deception on the part of the Bush administration. The reasons trotted out to justify the war – Iraqi WMDs and links with Al Qaeda – have turned out to be based on incorrect or false intelligence. Public opinion was crudely manipulated, and even Congress was duped into passing a resolution authorizing military action which said that "members of Al Qaeda, an organization bearing responsibility for ... the attacks that occurred on September 11, 2001, are known to be in Iraq and that Iraq could provide weapons of mass destruction to "international terrorists". In this connection, the World Socialist Websites says there was concerted effort to pin 9/11 on Saddam Hussein. Retired general Wesley Clark, former Nato commander and CNN's military expert, said he had got a call from the government right on 9/11 urging him to say that the attack had to be described as state-sponsored and connected to Saddam Hussein. Clark said: "I'm willing to say it, but what's your evidence? And I never got any evidence".

Amidst such grave doubts about American objectives in Iraq and such instances of manipulation, can we even consider going into Iraq? It won't be peacekeeping: it would be supporting occupation and exposing ourselves to further distrust in the Arab world as American's stooges. If any moral considerations move us, there should be no question of any Pakistani troops working with the US occupation authorities. Even self-interest demands that we keep out of the sad and terrifying mess in Iraq. We don't want to become a cog in America's neo-imperialism, or do we?
